

R.E.A.L kids FIELD TRIP @ PIZZA HUT

LITTLE CHEFS IN THE MAKING

April 2009 Issue

1300-88-25-25, sounds familiar? YES, it's Pizza Hut! Several of R.E.A.L Kids centres visited Pizza Hut for their field trip. Field trips are organized twice a year, because R.E.A.L Kids believe that learning should not just be confined in the classrooms.

What did the children do there? They were guided on how to make Hawaiian Pizza. First the base, then the tomato paste, then the chicken meat, then the pineapple chunks, and lastly, mozzarella cheese was sprinkled over the pizza - one word, YUMMY! They had an enjoyable time in the kitchen.

As a reward for their effort, these future little chefs were then served with a bowl of mushroom soup and bread sticks. It was simply delicious, with a few imitating Oliver Twist "May I have some moreeee?"

As a surprise, Pizza Hut's mascot 'Mr. Cheezy' popped out of the corner. You should see the smiles and laughter on the kids' faces. Many of them hugged Mr. Cheezy so tightly that he looked as though he was about to topple over anytime. To make the field trip more memorable, everyone brought home a Hawaiian Pizza each - the one they personally made. The children not only had fun, they gained self-confidence and felt a great sense of accomplishment. Certainly, a wonderful experience of hands-on pizza making!
